

Leaving a Gift in Your Will

Helping psychosynthesis grow in the South Pacific for generations to come

Many of us are drawn to psychosynthesis because it changed something in our lives. A gift in your Will is a way to make sure that others, now and in the future, can find it too. Whether large or small, a legacy gift helps keep our training accessible, our community connected, and our teaching alive.

What your gift can make possible

- Scholarships and support so more people can study psychosynthesis, wherever they live and whatever their budget.
- Free and low-cost offerings that welcome newcomers, such as introductions and online Experientials.
- Training programmes, a growing library and a steady home for the community.
- Stability for the Trust, so we can plan ahead with confidence.

How to leave a gift

1. Talk to your solicitor. They can help you choose the kind of gift that suits your family and your wishes.
2. Use our full legal name and charity number in your Will, so there is no confusion when the time comes.
3. Let us know if you would like to. This is entirely optional, but it lets us thank you and understand your wishes. It does not commit you to anything, and you can change your Will at any time.

Full legal name	Psychosynthesis South Pacific Trust
Charity registration number	CC57349

Two common kinds of gift

Share of your estate (a residuary gift).

You leave the Trust all, or a percentage, of what remains after your other gifts and expenses have been met. Because it is a share, it keeps its value as circumstances change.

A set amount (a pecuniary gift).

You leave a specific dollar sum. It is simple and clear, though its value may change over time.

You can also leave a particular item, such as books for our library, if you check with us first.

Suggested wording for your solicitor

This is a guide only. Your solicitor will adapt it to your circumstances.

Share of your estate
I give [all / ___ per cent] of the residue of my estate to the Psychosynthesis South Pacific Trust, registered charity number CC57349, to be used for its general purposes. The receipt of an authorised officer of the Trust will be a complete discharge to my executors.

Set amount
I give the sum of $[amount] to the Psychosynthesis South Pacific Trust, registered charity number CC57349, to be used for its general purposes. The receipt of an authorised officer of the Trust will be a complete discharge to my executors.

Thinking about it

A gift in your Will does not affect your finances today. If you would like it to support something specific, such as scholarships, tell your solicitor and let us know first, so we can confirm we can honour that wish. Please also keep your family informed so your wishes are understood.

Talk to us

We are happy to talk with you in confidence, answer questions, or simply hear what psychosynthesis has meant to you.

Delwyn McPhun
admin@psptrust.org.nz

Thank you for considering a gift that will carry psychosynthesis forward. This information is general and is not legal or financial advice. Please speak with your solicitor.